Diverse. Majestic. Fresh. Wild.

History

Preserved. Restored. Living. Authentic.

The Lonesome Pine Ranch was originally settled by two of Stephen F. Austin's "old 300" families, Joel Leakey and James Stevenson, who back in the early 1830's, had their pick of the best spots in Texas. The descendants of these two settlers are still in the area.

The Elicks homestead is the Prairie Place Ranch in near Bellville, TX. They acquired the Lonesome Pine Ranch between Bellville and Chappell Hill beginning in 1989. In 1996 they purchased the Eagle Roost Ranch near Sealy.

John's father, Jerry Elick, instilled in him an appreciation for the land, which he learned from his father, a Czech immigrant in the 1800s, who also believed in hard work and dedication. Together John and Taunia have continued that legacy at Texas Ranch Life, using their land to preserve a working piece of Texas history and their family's history, while restoring the land to its natural glory.

John and Taunia have made preservation both of history and habitat a lifelong goal and use the ranch as an outlet to highlight their work.

Corporate Events

Work. Learn. Explore. Unite.

We tailor our corporate retreats to meet each groups' needs, be it merely space and a beautiful environment to have discussions and presentations or a weekend bonanza of ranch activities, team building, steak dinners and dancing.

Corporate events at the ranch have included everything from tomahawk throwing, team penning, calf wrestling, skeet shooting, horseback riding, cattle ranch work, coyote moonlighting, longhorn cattle
